

Douro

This heritage bears witness to an important exchange of human values during a given period or in a given cultural area, having influenced the development of architecture or technology, the monumental arts, town planning or the creation of landscapes; or Presented as an outstanding example of a type of construction or a type of architectural ensemble or landscape illustrating a significant period or periods of human history and constituting an outstanding example of human settlement or land use (land/sea), representing a culture (or cultures), above all when it may become more vulnerable due to the effect of irreversible change;